Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Art Unit: 1793

35 USC 102/103:

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over JP 2001-261414 A (Y reference from Int'l Search Report), JP 2001-278653 (Y reference from Int'l Search Report), JP 2001-240455 (Y reference from Int'l Search Report), JP 2001-226160 (Y reference from International Search Report), Hyodo et al., Ye et al., Tanimura (JP '457 A), Tanimura (JP '474 A), JP 2001-026474 A, JP 2002-012464 A, Nishida (JP 2004284873 A), or Nakagawa et al. '118.

Art Unit: 1793

All of the above cited references teach a high strength concrete of the applicants' compressive strength and also contain either an expansive agent and/or shrinkage reducing agent in amounts anticipating applicants' claims. Even if not anticipated, overlapping ranges of amounts would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art (please refer to the abstract and claims for each reference above. For the PCT International Search Report References, see the actual search report writeup as well).

Note that the final reference, Nakagawa teaches an expanding agent added to high strength concrete in amount of 5-25 wt% (CaO expanding agent) and thus anticipates applicants' claims. Even if not anticipated, amounts overlap rendering it prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art.

Specification:

The specification is objected to because the expansive additive and shrinkage reducing agent are both either trademarks and tradenames and do not point out what the actual identity of these expansive agents and/or shrinkage reducing agents are for the instant invention. Please provide the chemical compounds of these tradenames and add them to the specification.
